Arms: Vert, a saltire, or St. Andrew's cross, engrailed argent.

Crest: A dexter arm in armour proper, garnished, holding in the hand a spear, in bent sinister, pointed downward proper.

Motto: Survive moi.

Note: The crest part differs with different English and Irish families. Some have the more peaceful goat's head holding in its mouth a spray of holly, others have a "winged Thunderbolt." The cross and motto are the same.

It is now a fitting time to introduce the usual three brothers, who came from England in 1632, bearing the names of Joseph Hawley, Thomas Hawley and Robert Hauke.

These brothers settled, one in Mass., one in Rhode Island., there were sisters Hannah and Elizabeth who married respectively Beard and Booth. Our genealogist sought among the English families for the exact parentage of this family, but facts cannot be ascertained.

Joseph Hawley, the Founder of the Connecticut line is one of the most interesting to us. The place of his residence in England is revealed in his will, which says, "I give to my son, Samuel Hawley, all my lands and buildings in Parrodders in Darbyshire, Old England, to him, his heirs and assigns." This place is now Parwich and is about 4 miles from Ashbourne; the testator's owning lands and buildings indicates it to have been a homestead. This property was quit claimed by Samuel, Junior, to his younger brother, Nathaniel, but no further account of it has been found. Right here we may say that in common with many other families the traditional pot of gold has been waiting for us, and has been investigated by paid agents, but with no result. Mr. E. D. Hawley peculiarly adds that when found there will be plenty heirs (when the genealogy was completed in 1890, there were then nearly 1000 names). Joseph Hawley did not locate at Stratford immediately upon his arrival. He had a wife, Katherine Birdsey, and one child when he came to Connecticut. In the Spring of 1639 15 people came from Wethersfield and Hartford to a place called by the Indians Cupeag, and established a plantation which was afterwards

It is now a fitting time to introduce the usual 3 brothers who came from England in 1632, bearing the names of Joseph Hawley, Thomas Hawley and Robert Hawley.

These brothers settled, one in Mass., one in Rhode Island, there were sisters Hannah and Elizabeth who married respectively Beard and Booth. Our genealogist sought among the English families for the exact parentage of this family, but facts cannot be ascertained.

Joseph Hawley, the Founder of the Connecticut line is one of the most interesting to us. The place of his residence in England is revealed in his will, which says, "I give to my son named Stratford, in honor of W^m Beardsley who came from Stratford-on-Avon. In 1651 the number of inhabitants had increased to 40 and Joseph's name is among them. It is worthy to note that until he came, there were no town records kept, and that he made the first, which are still in existence. He was the Recorder or Town Clerk 16 years, and filled other important offices likewise. The land records show that with other proprietors he purchased ~~the~~^a Township of 70,000 acres. Because they could not improve and claim it all at once, they had to take a long time for it, hence without adding to the original purchase Joseph received allotments of land all his lifetime, and after he died his children continued to receive land. A story of one of his descendants is told (not in our line) that with his young wife he rode a day's journey on horseback. At night she refused to go further, saying, "we must have come to the end of the land." Hence they called the stopping place, "Land's End," which name it retained until the advent of the railroad, when it was changed to Hawleyville. They say that the Hawleys have migrated from that town less than from any other old town where they first settled. But to return to Joseph: He kept the births, deaths, marriages and other town acts in the same book with the land records in peculiar chirography which was at that time used in State documents in London, England. This indicates that he was educated there, and may have had a government position. It is not known what proportion of the above claim fell to Joseph, but in 1671 he stood next to the highest in the tax list. Taxes in those days were paid in different kinds of produce and it was Joseph's duty as treasurer to measure, and store, and dispose of such taxes. It is probable that he became connected with the Stratford Church soon after his arrival there. In 1665 a clergyman makes him one of the executors of his will. In 1680 they built a new church and Joseph Hawley is named one of the committee to arrange for the seating of the congregation. He was one of a committee to draft a patent signed by Governor Robert Treat which is still preserved. He also kept the "ordinary" or village tavern.

Besides these duties Joseph Hawley was also engaged in ship building. He died at the ripe age of 87, leaving a wife and eight children. Those parts of his will that pertain to our branch I will quote, "I give to my son, Ephraim Hawley, one acre and a quarter of meadow in ye great neck on the east side of the creek, the south side of which is a part of that meadow purchased from Mr. Zachery Walker." "I give to my sons Ephraim and John Hawley, the two little lots on Claboard Hill and what was laid out to me at the Gallows creek, also a little lot by Joseph Curtis' lot purchased of Mr. Ripon, that was laid out to John Wheeler, being above one acre." "Moreover I appoint my three sons Samuel, Ephraim and John Hawley, my executors, and do give unto them all my lands in Stratford, Darby and Woodbury equally ~~amongst~~ amongst them, their heirs and assigns forever; also I give unto them all and whatsoever is my estate in debts, or otherwise not given, them paying all legacies and debts, and taking care of their mother, my now wife, that she hath whatsoever she needeth during her widowhood."

Now for a word about the children of Joseph Hawley.

Samuel Hawley was a prominent citizen, member of the church and officer of the town. The year his father died he was elected representative to the Colonial Assembly or Legislature, to which office he was re-elected seven times. He succeeded his father, and before he closed his public career his brother John began. Then Samuel's son, Captain Joseph, so that during 80 years some member of this family was elected to the same legislature 70 times, which, says the record, is a roll of honor worthy to be noted. Samuel married twice, had 13 children to whom he left 2000 acres of land. The History of Stratford shows that in 1699 he was the fourth largest owner of undivided lands in the township. As will be shown later, he is one of our ancestors on the "distaff side."

Joseph Junior died in middle life and little can be said about him. He was unmarried and his property descended to his nephew, Capt. Joseph (son of his brother Samuel).

Elizabeth married Robert Chapman and had seven children.

Ebenezer died when quite a young man, leaving a wife and 2 children. As there was only one Hawley son, the line of Ebenezer soon ran out.

Hannah married Nichols who died 12 years later. Then she married John Wolcott of Windsor, Conn. The Wolcott family was the most prominent family of the Colony at that time.

Ephraim Hawley. Among the early pages of the Record are various Ephraims. The nephew of our ancestor, by the same name, was a more noted man. He was one of the ~~son~~ many sons of Samuel Hawley, Sr., (see Table I) and a large landowner in the Township of New Milford, now Bridgewater. Later several of his children moved to Arlington, Vt. He was also prominent in church work.

Capt. John Hawley commanded a militia company in Stratford, married twice, had nine children whose descendants are scattered all over the United States.

Mary Hawley married Coe and had 11 children.

Hawley - Treat

Date of John Hawley and his wife —; their daughter Phoebe married Aug. 17, 1743, or Oct. 3, 1750, John Treat.

Answer

A-2078 - (2) - V.D.E., Jan 30, 1942; answer by R.H.B., April 24 1943

Hawley - Curtis - Judson

Joseph (2) Judson did not die on Oct. 24, 1644. That was date of his marriage. He died Oct 8, 1640. See Jacobs Old Fairfield, Vol. I; Orcutt's History of Stratford, Vol. II

Will R. H. B. please give authority that Grace, wife of William (1) Judson was a Porter. Was she mother of Joseph (2)? Her date wanted.

A-2077 (5+6) G. W. C. Mar. 15, 1943, Hawley. Freeman's "History of Cape Cod" Vol. I, pg. 692, says that Samuel Hawley came from Derbyshire, Eng., to Roxbury, Mass and in 1639 removed to Stratford, Conn., and that Joseph, Thomas and Elizabeth were his children. I have seen it stated that the parentage of these children is not known. Can some reader tell if Freeman's claim has been disproven? B. W. C. 70

A footnote in Prof. Young's
The Rev. John Langhorn.

At Capt. Hawley's house Dr. Stuart had, at intervals prior to Langhorn's arrival, held services, the Captain himself holding them between the dates of the Doctor's visits. In the list of Loyalists contained in "The Centennial of the Settlement of Upper Canada by the United Empire Loyalists, 1784-1884," etc., the Captain is said to have served as a Lieutenant of Batteaux.

On February 28th, 1783, Captain Jephtha Hawley, whose first name is commonly spelled Jephtha, and his sister Ruth (Mrs. Isaac Briscoe), put in a claim before the Royal Commissioners on Loyalists' claims, sitting at Montreal, for their share of their deceased father, Josiah Hawley's estate. On August 25th, 1769, Josiah had by deed of gift, "in Consideration of Love & Affection," conveyed to Jephtha, who was born in Connecticut, 200 acres of land in Arlington, Vt., where their home then was. This the son had improved to the extent of 70 acres and he had built a framed house and a barn. He had acquired some 176 acres more by purchase, improving a portion of them also. Most of his holdings, which were estimated to have a value of from 5s. to £ 10 currency per acre, were confiscated, together with his stock and his buildings.--2nd Report of the Ontario Archives, 1904, Vol. 1, pp. 434-6.

Joining the Royal Army at Crown Point in 1776, he had under him 50 men in General Burgoyne's command, retiring at the end of the war with a rank of Captain. On settling by the Bay of Quinte, he was granted two lots (West $\frac{1}{2}$ of 9 and East $\frac{1}{2}$ of 8) in the first Concession of the Township of Ernesttown, about half-a-mile west of the village of Bath. The house, partly of stone, which he built is still standing. He received a grant, likewise, of Lot 22 in the 2nd Concession, Lot 18 in the 4th, and Lot 25 in the 6th.

Captain Hawley had 13 children, among the eldest of whom were Davis, mentioned in Dr. Stuart's letter of October 24th, 1804, quoted on page 528, Martin, a soldier in the Loyal Rangers, Russell, and Sheldon, all of whom received grants of land. Davis Hawley, who was a soldier in the King's Rangers, married Amanda Cass, whose family had also settled in Vermont. They had 11 children, the eldest of whom appears to have been Joseph Hawley, father of Mr. George Hawley, present owner of the Davis Hawley farm, some time L.P.P., and, till recently superannuated, Sheriff of the county.

Davis Hawley's farm is the last at the extreme west end of 2nd Concession of Ernesttown. He "chopped a little clearing and built a log house. Wheat was sown among the stumps, as usual, and the first few winters Davis had to take some of it on a hand sleigh on the ice of the Bay of Quinte down to Kingston, where was the nearest mill. Once, during their first winter, the mill burned up ~~XX~~ the night he got there with his small load of wheat. His wheat was burned and he had not money to buy flour. The next day he came home with nothing. All the rest of that winter they pounded up wheat in a hollowed-out stump and made bread as best they could of this coarse flour.

"Davis Hawley served during the War of 1812, first as a Lieutenant and later as Captain." Note of Mr. Bertram Hawley, of Napanee, his great-grandson.

Petition of Jephtha Hawley

Now at Machuiche in character of commander at that post endowed with a small subsistence of $7 a month which humbly conceives is a small support for one in that character was previously as an officer had $14 a month which humbly conceived would have cont'd had Dr Adams fulfilled a contract he made with me when we joined our men in our Company which was that whenever I chose he would deliver my men to me again - But contrary that contract he took the advantage of my absence over the lake with Maj. Carleton & discharged my men together with his own in order to help his son, which I humbly conceive was the cause of my being reduced. After my return back
I finding my men discharged made application to the Hon.
Board at St Johns & requested my men. Their answer to me was that I still drew the same pay & it was not material whether I had his men or not, which I acknowledge I did at that time though unknown to me there was an order from your Excellency for my being reduced.

Battle of Lake George

"Captain Elisha Hawley was in his tent, finishing a letter which he had just written to his brother Joseph; and these were ~~the~~ last words: "I am this minute going out in company with five hundred men to see if we can intercept 'em in their retreat, or find their canoes in the Drowned Lands; and therefore must conclude this letter." He closed and directed it; and in an hour received his death-wound.

History of Stratford and Bridgeport Conn. 1886.
 Hawley records-pp 1215-1218. also
 History of Stratford, Conn. 1939. Excerpts

Hawley--Haw (Old Saxon) in the north of England means a green plot in the valley, also a small field or garden connected with the house.

The ley terminal means a field laid down to grass or sward.
 The English Hawleys came to England with William the Conqueror, as the name is found on the Roll of Battle Abbey in Sussex, England.
 Walter de Hauleigh was a M.P. for Shaftesbury, Dorsetshire in 1377.
 Other early spellings were Haylay, Haly, Haylea, Haule.
 A town in County Kent is called Hageleigh-a form of Hawley.

Joseph Hawley, ancestor of the following line (see history) was born in Derbyshire, England, came to America about 1632 with his brothers Thomas, who settled in Massachusetts, and Robert who went to Rhode Island.

Joseph Hawley, progenitor of the family in America was born in the little parish of Parwich, Derbyshire, England and died in Conn. in 1690. Came to New England and settled in Plymouth. Previous to 1650 he moved to Stratford, Conn. where he was a proprietor.

Parwich, Eng. where Joseph Hawley was born is nine miles from old Darby, 4 miles from Ashbourne. That he had a homestead in England is indicated in his will "I give to my sonne Samuel Hawley all my lands and buildings in Parwich, Derbyshire, in old England, to him, his heirs and assigns &c."

He was the first town clerk of Stratford, retaining the position for 16 years, was town treasurer and member of committee that drafted the Stratford Patent and established boundary lines; member of First Church in Stratford and one of the executors of the will of Rev. Adam Blakeman, the first minister. In 1655 he was an extensive land owner-his large tract in Percy being known as the Hawley Purchase.
 Will made in 1689.

Married 1646 to Catherine Birdsey, daughter of Widow Birdsey.

Hawley Family Association erected a granite Memorial to Joseph Hawley in Congregational Cemetery at Stratford in 1924.

Hawley Excerpts-

Three brothers came from England in 1632 bearing the names of Joseph Hawley who went to Conn.
 Thomas Hauley who went to Mass.
 Robert Haule who went to R.Island. and 2 sisters Hannah who mar. Beard and Elizabeth who mar. Booth.

Names were spelled various ways by parish clerks-for instance Bapt. 1654, month 4, 11- Joseph Haly, son of Thomas Hawly.

Search has been made among English families for exact Hawleigh parentage, no proofs have been found.

Note by M.E.L. The many wars in England have been as destructive to records as the Rev. War was to the U.S. and to the U.T.L.

The founder of the family in America was Joseph Hawley, who was born in Derbyshire, and emigrated to the Colony of Massachusetts about 1640. The prominent part which he played in the early settlement of Connecticut, and the esteem in which he was held by his fellow colonists, is evidenced by the fact that he was elected the first Yeoman and Recorder of Stratford, in which place he settled shortly after his arrival in the New World.

At the two-hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Stratford, which was held a few weeks ago, there was present General Joseph R. Hawley, a veteran of the American Civil War, who has been Governor of Connecticut, and is now a U.S. Senator from that state. General Hawley, like all the Hawleys on the continent, is a direct descendant of Joseph Hawley, who was also the ancestral progenitor of the Hawleys in Canada.

Joseph Hawley had a son Samuel who was born at Stratford in 1647. Samuel had a son Ephraim who was born at New Milford in 1692. Ephraim had a son Captain Jehiel who was born at Newtown in 1712. Jehiel Hawley subsequently removed from Connecticut to Vermont, where he had a son Jephtha born at Arlington in 1740.

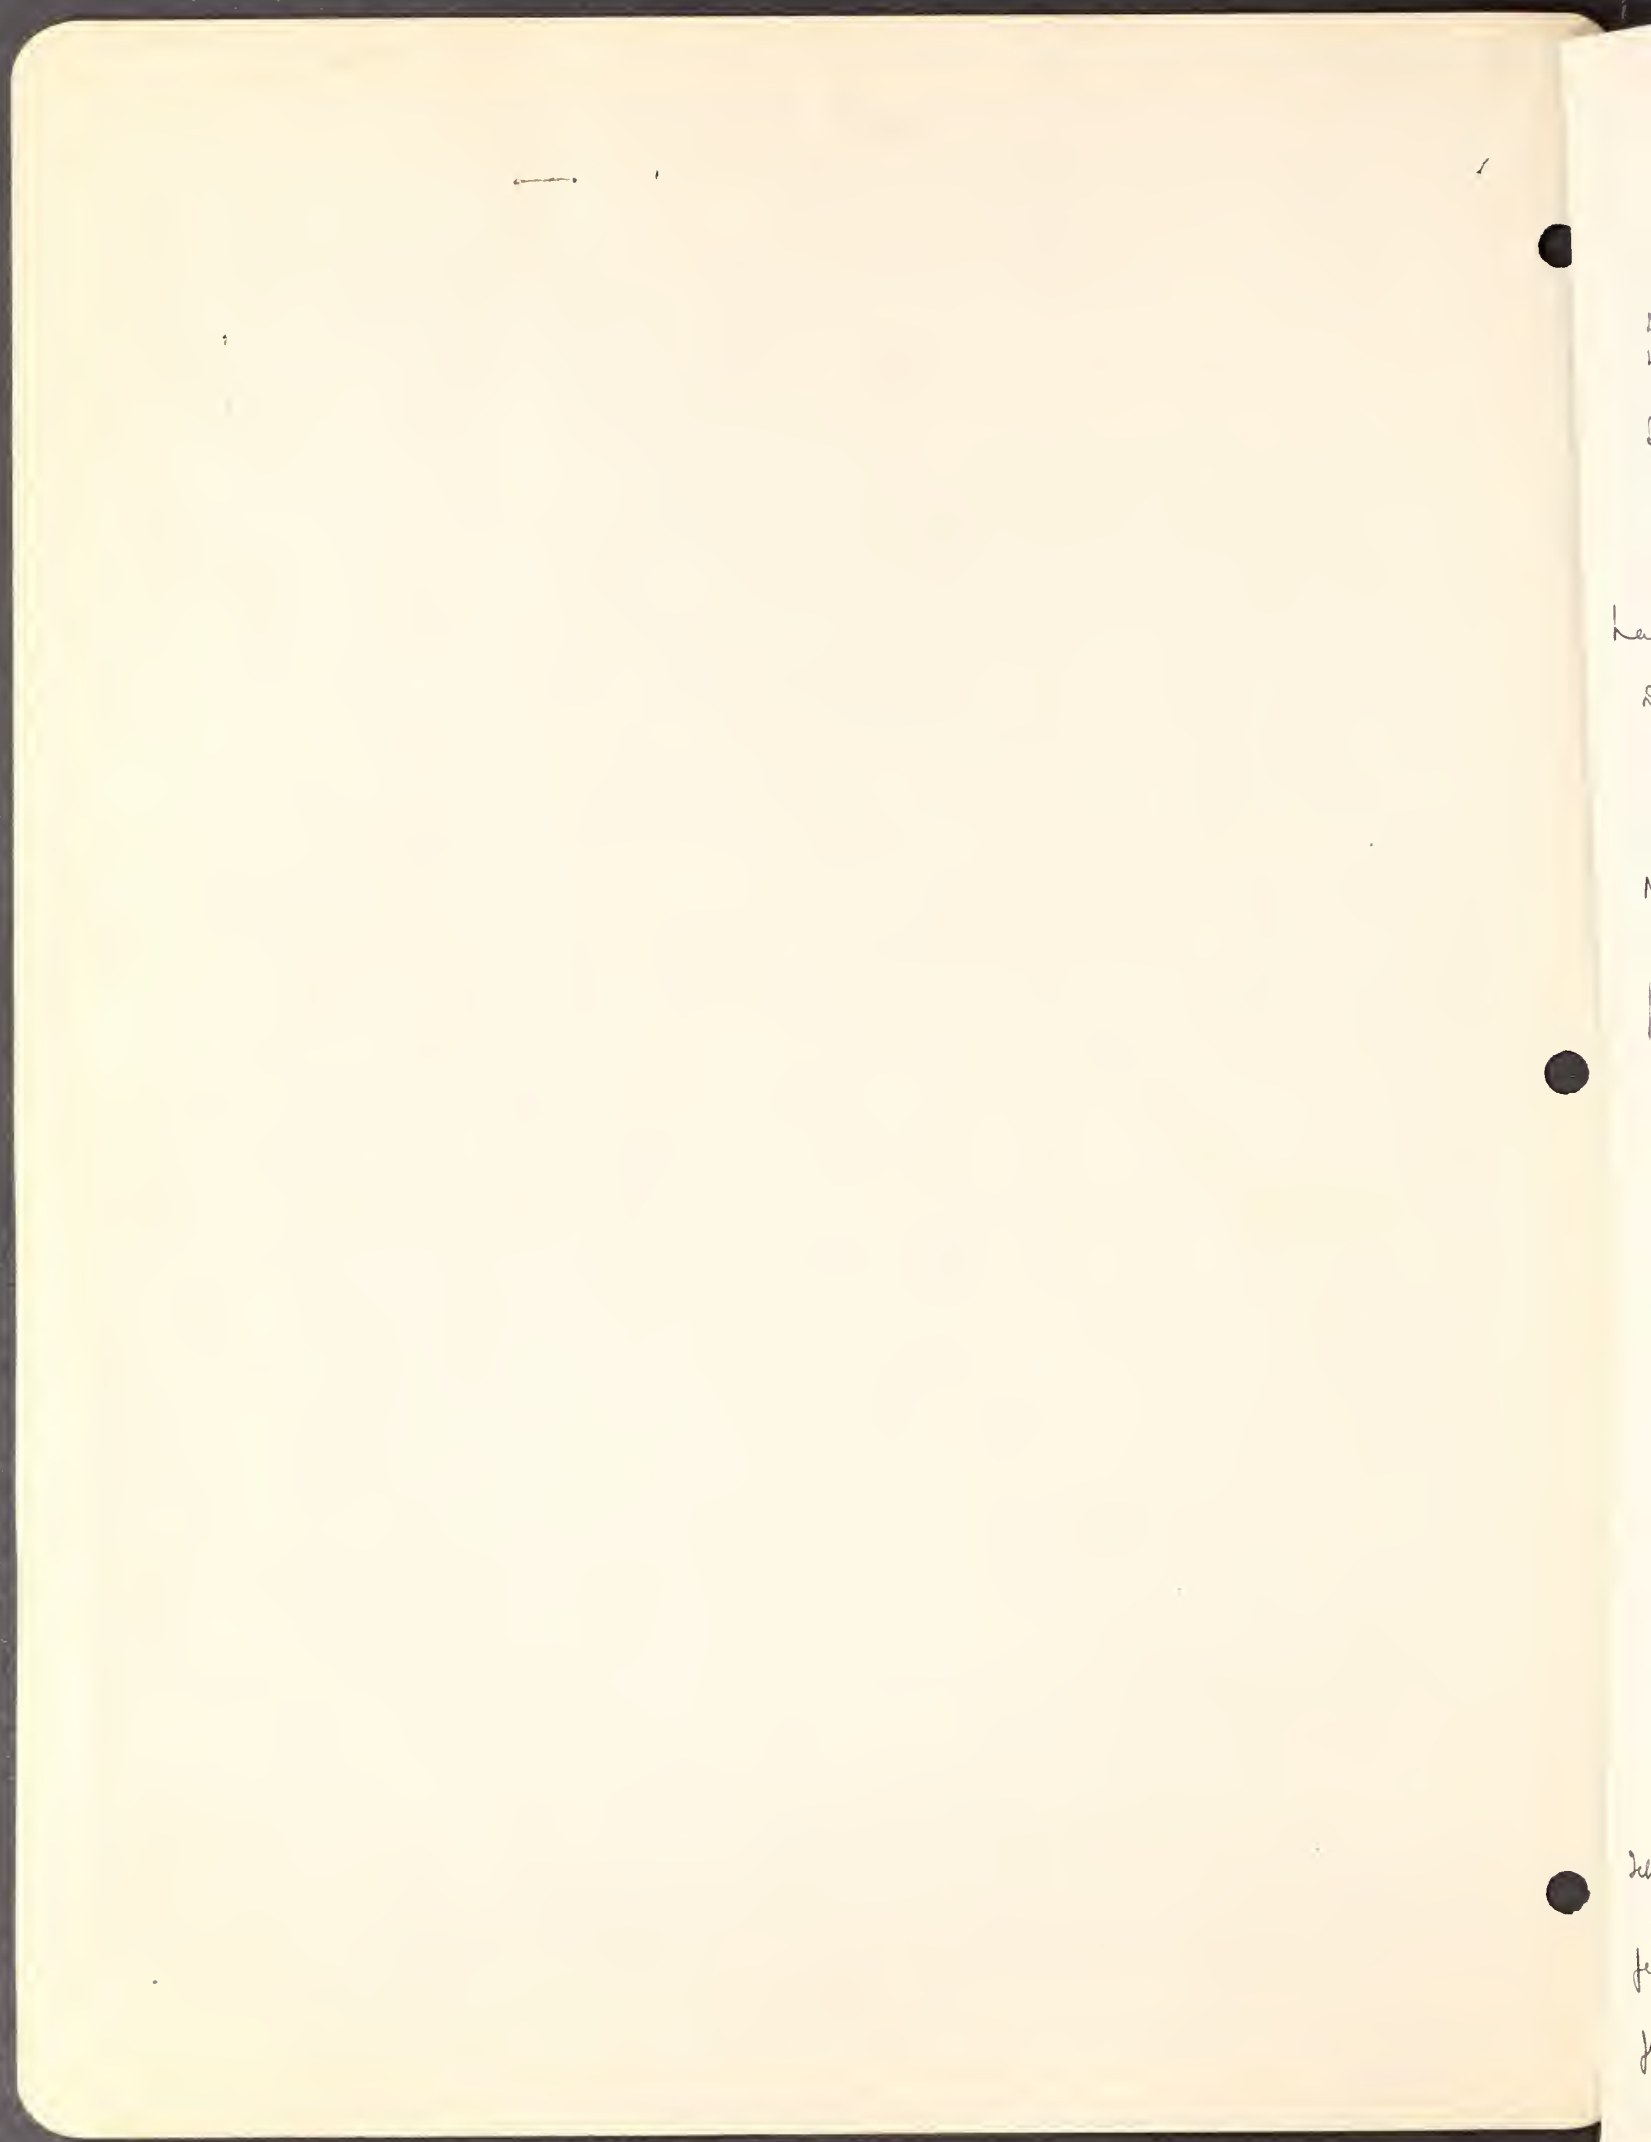

Jephtha Hawley lived at Arlington until after the Revolutionary War, when he emigrated with his wife and seven children to Canada. He settled at Bath, and took up a large tract of U.E.L. land. The family, whose names were: Martin, Russell, Davis, Sheldon, Azoba, Amarilla, and Esther, became prominent persons in the locality, as well as in the other parts of Canada in which they or their descendants have since settled, and emulated the prominence attained by their ancestors and connections in the United States.

Elderly Cloyne District Man Member of Pioneer Family

By FRED B. PENSE
Staff Writer

Allan "Tan" Meeks, pioneer Cloyne resident, recently celebrated his 94th birthday. Mr. Meeks, now retired, makes his home with his son, John Meeks. He is enjoying fairly good health.

Speaking of old times in the Cloyne district, Mr. Meeks said that his father, Denison Meeks, was one of the first residents to take up land in the Cloyne district. His father was born in New York State in 1826 and came to Canada when very young. His mother, Elizabeth Meeks, was born in 1834. Her oldest child was born in 1847 when she was 13 years of age.

Some time during the year 1858 Mr. Denison Meeks revisited the Cloyne district and decided to move from Camden Township where he resided for a short time. The road through the Cloyne district had been planned and cut out under the direction of Ebenezer Perry. It was rocky and rough and only a lumber wagon could be driven over it.

At that time there were only two settlers living north of Cloyne. They were Johnnie Winters who lived on the property now owned by Dr. Hannah, and Davis Hawley who lived on the four corners on the lot now owned by Archie Meeks. Denison Meeks built his home on the place now owned by his grandson, Oscar Meeks. The first house was built of logs. It was a two-storey structure. The logs from which the house was built were drawn by horses for many miles as there were no sawmills in the Cloyne district.

Early in the spring of 1859 Denison Meeks moved his family back to the Cloyne district. The family then consisted of eight children, the oldest 12 years old, and the youngest, "Tan" Meeks, a baby of about one month old. Four other children were born after moving to Cloyne.

The Meeks family had a cow when they moved back and they bought a yoke of oxen shortly afterwards. Denison Meeks was a cooper by trade and he used to make barrels and tubs and sell them to the other settlers. He also cut shingles by hand.

Mr. Meeks can recall seeing several tribes of Indians going over to Loon Lake in the spring and then seeing them return in the fall or early winter. They would draw their equipment on a sort of toboggan built of birch bark. These Indians had no real home. Many of the Indians lived in wigwams.

The first school was built somewhere around 1868. The minister used to visit the district on horse-

Queen's Group Paid Visit To Cornell

Twenty-two Queen's University students and staff members returned Sunday from a trip to Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. The trip was arranged to enable the Queen's people to take part in an open house at Cornell. The group left here Thursday.

While there they sat in on lectures, toured the campus and attended a banquet Saturday night. Dr. H. W. Curran represented the back and hold services. There would be quite an interval between his visits. He would appoint some local resident to carry on the church meetings. The first church, and by the way, it is still in use, was erected in 1870. It was built by the Methodist residents of the district.

Good Economy on Methods

ts. of benefit to the consumer as well as the producer. Morven summed up the popular opinion when it is said: "Price supports help the consumer. It prevents extreme fluctuation in the price of farm products by encouraging the farmer to raise his produce in a steady supply rather than according to the rise and fall of prices."

* * *

Easy St. Forum commented: "Farmers cannot buy manufactured goods if his income is low. The consumer benefits by assured supply. Signs point to a definite shortage of pork products in Canada in the near future. Canada's whole economy, both industrial and rural, is geared together and all sections must be prosperous or otherwise together. With our high standard of living, neither industry nor agriculture can compete in world markets without protection. Industry enjoys protection of tariff, labor has unemployment insurance, so the farmer's income must be secured at a reasonable level. How else can this be done without price supports?"

The idea that a skilful farmer could make a good living regardless of prices was "pooh-poohed" by nearly all the forums. River Valley stated: "The statement that efficient farmers need no price support was thought ridiculous. The farmer is unable to control the weather, cost of production, selling price of goods, temperament of animals, etc. A farmer may be efficient in his methods yet he controls none of the factors affecting his profit. Since the government protects manufacturers, have we not the same right?"

Morven Forum concludes the issue by saying: "We have not

Board Plans Santa Parade

SYDENHAM — Members of the Board of Trade are busily engaged in completing plans for the annual Santa Claus parade to be held on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 20. After touring the main streets of the town, the parade will halt at the community Christmas tree on the square, where Santa will distribute treats to children.

Future plans of the board include the sponsoring of a New Year's Eve frolic in the high school auditorium and a Father and Son banquet to be held in January.

Damage Small In House Fire

SYDENHAM — Sydenham volunteer fire fighters were called to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. David Murton at Murvale, where a stubborn stovepipe fire had spread to the walls of a room in their home.

Luckily for the fireman, a plentiful supply of water was available from a nearby farm

OBITUARY

JAMES BEECH HAWLEY

At the Kingston General Hospital on December 27th, 1943, there passed away James Beech Hawley, following a very brief illness.

He was born in Camden Township, on March 2nd 1864, and was the second son of Sarah Rogers and Philo Simeon Hawley. He lived most of his life in the Bath and Morven districts and was a leading farmer of the community for a great number of years. He served for many years on the village council at Bath and as Reeve on the County Council and was always willing to give of his time and ability to the general welfare of the community.

The late J. B. Hawley was predeceased by his first wife Emma Leveare, on December 4th, 1911 and was later united in marriage to Hazel Elizabeth Cook, July 5th, 1916, who is left to mourn his loss, as well as five daughters. Mrs. W. H. Tuckett, Port Hope, Ont., Mrs. C. J. Hoselton, of Cobourg, Ont., and Misses Marion, Myrtle and Roxey, of Napanee Ont. Six sons acted as bearers: Jarr. Wesley, Gordon Joseph Howard and Morley. He was predeceased by one son, a Great War Veteran, Allan Josiah, October 13, 1918. Honorary bearers were Stanley Ball, E. J. Courreva, T. D. Creighton, William Raycraft, W. S. Wilson and William Wood.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan, B.A., B.D., at Morven United Church and at Riverside Cemetery at Napanee. Rev. C. D. McLellan made reference to the outstanding character, faithfulness and high regard in which the deceased was held, not only in the church and community but in the home as well, where he was an exemplary husband and father. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fralick and Mr. Ward Wartman assisted at the service with a request duet and a solo.

Mr. Hawley was a lifelong member of the Methodist and United Church, in which he was an elder, member of sessions, lay minister, and for many years superintendent of the Sunday School.

The large number of floral tributes and the numerous relatives and friends who attended the funeral to pay their last respects were further testimony of the sterling character and high esteem in which he was held.

the Japanese did manage to pull a few surprises with their Zeros and Mitsubishi's and their curiously effective concept of aerial combat. The Japanese started out with aerial supremacy in the Solomons the whole way down to Guadalcanal and the Coral Sea. That we have aerial supremacy now up to and over Bougainville is no small tribute to Admiral Halsey's air chief and No. 1 lieutenant, Admiral "Jake" Fitch, who, in turn, has been ably assisted by Admirals Hardison and Mitscher and Generals Twining and Saunders, to mention only a few.

Dear General

Since my last, Capt. Stone, who I informed you, was gone down to Gilliland's Creek to make Discoveries, has returned with a Prisoner, whom I shall immediately send down to Albany;--his name is Philo Huribet, he seems to be a harmless person, says he was enticed away by the Infamous Capt. Hawley, of the Hampshire Grants, he joined the Enemy last Campaign at Crown-point, and on a promise of being supplied with provisions, went with the Army to Canada.

Mrs A. D. Peers → Ferndale, Cal.,

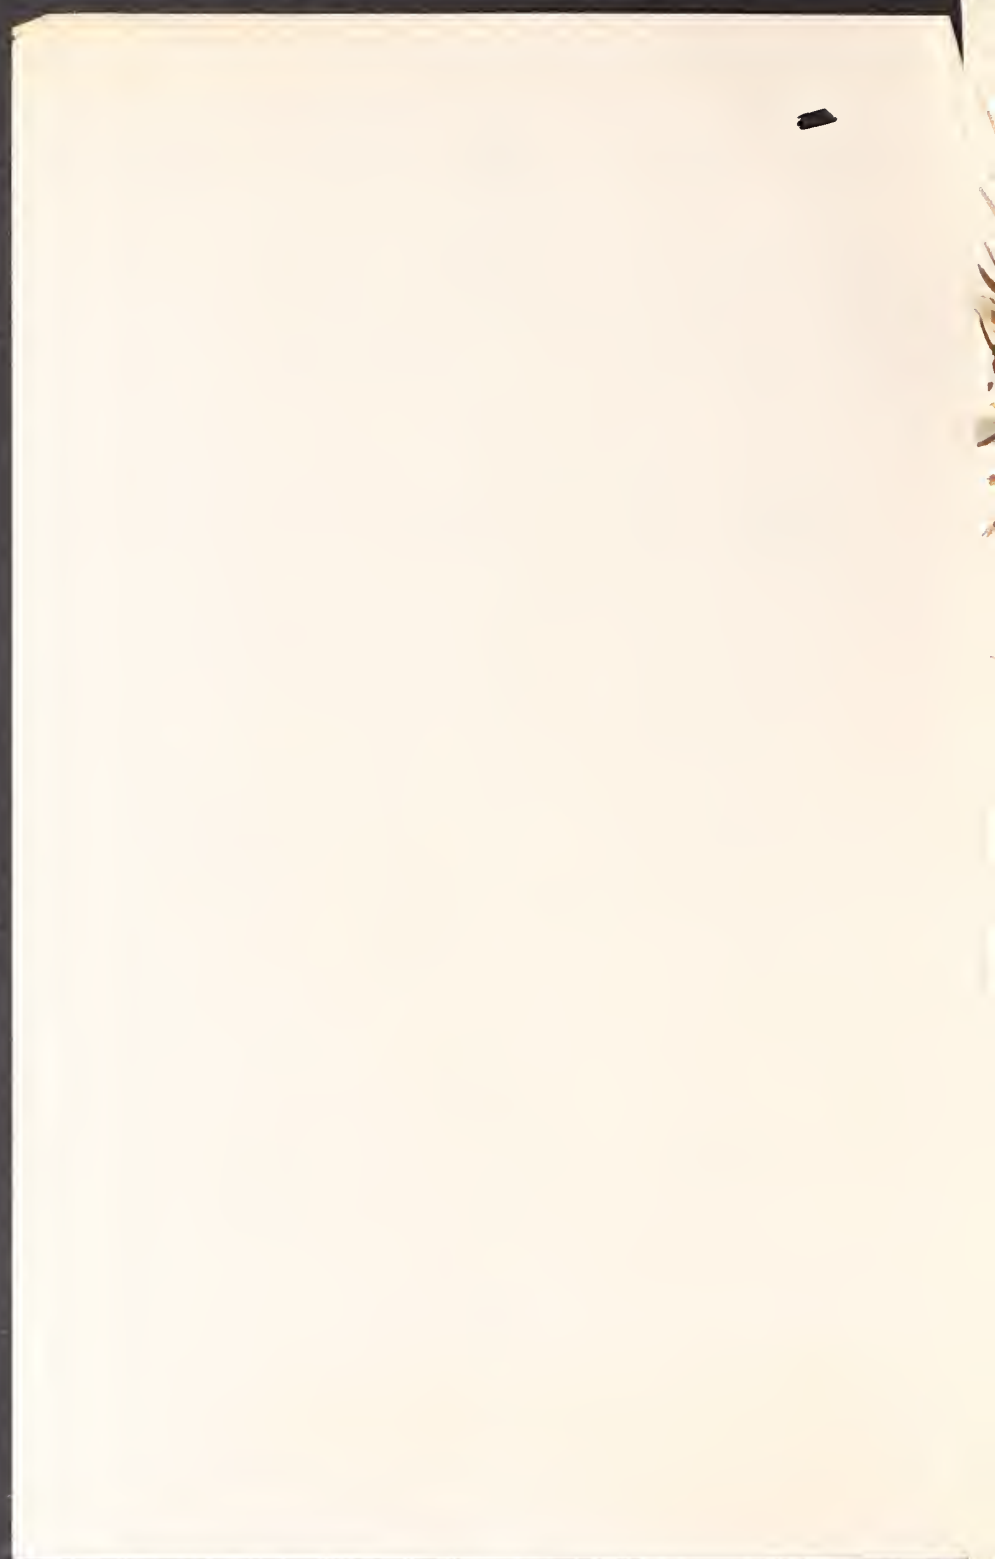

Nov. 29, '53.

Dear Dr. Burleigh, (Mrs AD Peers)

Maybe you remember me. I was the one to whom you gave the "Hawley History." I promised to send you more information on the Hawleys and I haven't done so. I haven't forgotten but the ones from whom I must get the information do not live here and so I haven't got the data together but will do so later, this coming year I hope.

I sure did appreciate the information you gave me. I think it was wonderful. If I hadn't met you I wouldn't have known much about the Hawleys. Thanking you again.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Vera Hawley Peers. ^{1/5}

MRS. A. V. HAWLEY Jan 11, 1938

Within a block in another direction from Mrs. Wesley Vanalstine lives, Mrs. Albert V. Hawley, who on June 1st this year, will celebrate her 95th birthday. A little more than a year ago Mrs. Hawley fell and broke her hip and has made a remarkable recovery, now being able to move about the house. Mrs. Hawley, in her youth, was a school teacher and has retained her mental alertness to an unusual degree. One of her favourite pastimes now is to play the game "Lexicon," a word game which requires the player to be quick and keen. Mrs. Hawley is able to hold her own at the game and even to beat younger players.

OFFICERS REPORT ON 1950 HUNTING SEASON

Heavy rains the latter part of the deer hunting week apparently had a dampening effect on hunting enthusiasm. Most of the visiting nimrods had vacated their camps by Thursday evening, Nov. 16th, leaving the field to local residents.

As compared to last year Quinte District Conservation Officers were of the opinion that deer populations were generally unchanged except in North Hastings, where a slight increase was noted. More hunters were evident in Lennox and Addington, Frontenac, Lanark and South Renfrew.

Grouse also seemed to be present in about the same numbers as 1949.
